

The Burrell Collection

The Warwick Vase was found in the 1700s and it belonged to the Roman Emperor Hadrian.

Tick the box when you can find the following on the Warwick Vase:

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Grapes | <input type="checkbox"/> Vines |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Pine cone | <input type="checkbox"/> Lion |

The Warwick Vase is the heaviest object here in the Burrell Collection. It weighs 7 tonnes!

Do you think it weighs the same as any of the things shown here? Circle which one you think it weighs as much as.

FAMILY TRAIL

Collect a floor plan from the front desk and then let's set off around the museum to see what we can find!

Have you ever seen this sculpture before? It's by Auguste Rodin and it is called The Thinker.

What helps you to concentrate or think?

Do you listen to music whilst you think or solve a problem?

Have a go at recreating the pose!

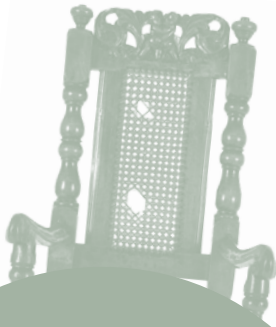

Portrait of Miss Mary Burrell by John Lavery. The woman in this painting was William Burrell's sister, Mary.

William Burrell was the man who collected all of the objects you see here in the museum. The portrait shows Mary's interest in collecting things.

Can you spot the objects on the table, what are they?

Do you collect anything?

What do you collect?

Fun Fact!

If you placed all the chairs and sofas from the museum's furniture collection in one room, 235 people could take a seat!

The Burrell family loved to collect tea sets.

With all the tea sets they owned, how many cups of tea do you think they could have had?

- 10 cups
- 105 cups
- 265 cups

OK, stay on the ground floor of the museum. Head for the Wagner Garden Carpet!

How many different animals can you spot within the carpet?

Draw your favourite in the space below.

The Warwick Vase weighs the same as an elephant.
265 cups of tea.

ANSWERS